

VESTEL

Short description

Vestel is a leading European home appliances manufacturer committed to sustainability and innovation. Our R&D focuses on integrating clean energy solutions into everyday life, including, waste-to-energy systems, green mobility, decarbonization technologies and high-efficiency HVAC systems. Vestel actively participates in EU programs, serving as a reliable partner for large-scale demonstration projects. With strong manufacturing capacity and a vision for circular economy, we provide smart, sustainable, and future-ready solutions for the global energy transition.

Vestel brings clean energy innovation into every home – from hydrogen and biogas integration to circular economy appliances. We seek partnerships for joint R&D and demonstration under Eurogia.
